H.S. TAKES ANOTHER

GAME WITH MAITLAND CAME NEAR ENDING 50-50

TEAMS MAKE BIG SCORE

After Strenuous Session, Featured by Team Work and Goal Shooting, M. H. S. Won by Two Points

Basket ball fans will long remember the game played last night on the Normal court in which Maryville High School defeated Maitland High School 52-50 after forty minutes of the most strenuous court battling ever seen here. The two teams certainly had no consideration for any weak-hearted persons there may have been in the crowd.

A total score of 102 points scored by two such evenly matched teams has never before occurred here and it is probably unique in the annals of all high school basket ball.

Good team work by both teams, followed by equally good goal shooting was responsible for the high score. The game was fast and exceptionally free from intentional roughness. Dale Marion, Maitland, refereed an excellent game.

The first scoring was done by Maitland on a free toss by Nedrow. Egley tied it up for Maryville with one from the foul line and then followed it up with two baskets from the field which, together with a goal by Puckett, put the locals in the lead 7-1. A sudden spurt, however, gave Maitland five baskets and the lead, 11-7.

The locals had scarcely recovered sufficiently to tie the score at eleven all when Maitland started on another spurt which almost proved Maryville's undoing. During the period the visitors scored 25 points against six by the home team, and giving them a 35-17 lead. The locals got going again just before the end of the half and scored six points to their opponents' one, but the whistle blew with Maitland on the long end of a 36-23 score at the end of the period.

Came Back With a Rush.

With a thirteen-point handicap even the most ardent High School supporter could see little chance of victory, but the team came back strong at the opening of the half and virtually swept everything before them. The score amounted to 30-41, then 35-43, and was finally tied at 44-44.

Maitland again went into the lead 46-44 for a short time, but four field goals gave M. H. S. a total of 52 points, which Maitland was not able to overcome, although only two points separated the two teams at the end.

The Maryville team has improved wonderfully since the opening of the season and bids fair to win the majority of the remaining games.

Egley got going for the first time this season, making ten field goals and ten out of fourteen free throws for a total of thirty points. The tall lad has been sick most of the year and has been receiving more than his share of the knockers' attentions. His return to form affected the play of the whole team last night.

Puckett's Eye Was Working.

Puckett also had an eye for the basket, tossing in eight goals from the field. Yehle and Robison bore the brunt of the floor work and Kirby made an excellent stationary guard.

For Maitland, Nedrow and Crider sparkled. Nedrow tied Egley in number of field goals, but made only eight of his fifteen chances from the foul

'SEND US OVER RIGHT AWAY'

Ruthless Sinking of Tuscania Has Fired the Boys at Funston With a Desire for Action

Camp Funston, Feb. 9.—A wave of indignation, deep and bitter, has swept Camp Funston as a result of the ruthless sinking of the transport Tuscania, loaded with American troops, by a German submarine off the Irish coast.

"Send us over right away; let us get at them!" That is the cry of the men of the 89th division. They want to fight to kill. There seems to be a different attitude among the men. They seemed to be possessed of a more determined revengeful spirit that has done away with the "well-I-wish-they'd-do-something-with-us attitude. They want action, and they seem to realize the quicker they get trained the quicker they will get it.

"I'd like to get turned loose among them Germans with a pick handle in my hands. I'd show 'em," declared one big farmer boy in the 356th Infantry, who has scarcely spoken an unnecessary word since coming here.

Rev. C. MUST CLOSE AT 10

THE COAL SITUATION LOCALLY IS STILL SERIOUS

HEIFNER GIVES NOTICE

For Maryville Business Houses and Places of Amusement Former Closing Hours Must Be Observed

While an order yesterday by Wallace Crossley, state fuel administrator, gave permission for theatres and places of amusement to remain open after the hours previously named, the order, it is learned, applied only to such towns and cities where the local fuel committee gave approval. In Maryville, Chairman J. J. Heifner, of the county fuel board, points out that with little or no coal here the order will not apply and has issued the following order:

TO THE PUBLIC.

The coal situation is still serious in Nodaway county, and only the change in the weather has afforded us any relief. The 10 o'clock closing order is still effective for Nodaway county and will not be rescinded until further orders. The state situation does not apply to Nodawa ycounty, for the lifting of the closing orders depends upon the local situation and is left to the local committees, and until orders are issued by the local committees all previous closing orders are effective The first order, which I hope to be able to release by next week, will be the opening of the churches. After that, if the situation justifies, the restaurants and other places affected by the closing order will get relief. Sheriffs, marshals and other officers are empowered to enforce the regular closing order.

J. J. HEIFNER,
Chairman Fuel Committee.

The coal situation in Maryville is still serious and little coal is to be had. At all of the school bulidings there is but coal enough to last another week. The city water plant and the electric light plant have but scant supply and many individual consumers are burning wood. None of the dealers have assurance of any definite shipments at this time.

"MAKING GOOD" HARD WORK

Actors Who Went to Burlington Junction Presented Play at Opera House by Lamp Light

Members of the cast of the play, "Making Good," who went to Burlington Junction last night where the play was to be given, were obliged to present it by lamp light, an accident to the electric light supply line having put the plant out of commission for the entire evening. All Burlington Junction was without electric light. The line supplying current was broken when several poles between Maryville and the Junction fell, breaking the circuit.

The company of players was not to be daunted, however, and lamps were secured and the play presented before a fair sized audience. Making the trip by automobile they did not arrive until late and on the return trip reached Maryville about one o'clock. Tomorrow night the play will be presented at Conception Junction as a benefit performance for the Knights of Columbus war fund.

German allies are said to have entered into a secret pact and Germany and Austria are giving aid to the anti-Bolsheviki forces in southwestern Russia.

NEW DRAFT BILLS IN

MEN WILL BE REGISTERED NOW AS THEY REACH 21

CALL SKILLED EXPERTS

Bill to Give President Power to Call Men for Industry or Agriculture Is Reported Favorably

Washington, Feb. 9.—Favorable report on the war department's bill amending the selective draft law to require registration of men as they reach 21 years and basing quotas on the number of men in Class 1, instead of on state populations, has been unanimously ordered by the senate military committee.

The proposal to exempt men as they reach 31 years, if they have not been drafted, which was opposed by Provost Marshal General Crowder, was not included in the bill.

An amendment proposed by Senator New of Indiana require registration of youths of 19 years and over also was rejected.

Another bill favorably reported which affects the draft would authorize the president in any emergency to call into immediate military service skilled experts in industry or agriculture, regardless of classification, residence or quota.

Other bills favorably reported provide for payment of six months' pay to widows, children or dependents of enlisted men dying from wounds or disease; reorganizing the army nurse corps; increasing buglers' pay and for reimbursement to those in the military establishment of personal property injured or destroyed in the service.

Another bill unanimously reported was that by Senator Jones of Washington providing that army officers may get their uniforms and equipment at cost from the quartermaster general instead of being required to buy from private dealers, who are charged with profiteering.

FIVE MORE DAYS TO REGISTER

German Enemy Aliens Are Given Until Next Wednesday, February 13, to Report

The time limit for the registration of enemy aliens, to have expired at 6 o'clock tonight, has been extended to Wednesday, February 13, the order having been issued from the office of attorney general, Gregory.

Up to today but three German aliens had been registered by postmaster, James Todd, who has charge of the registration for Maryville.

"A misunderstanding seems to exist as to the requirements of registration. The ruling specifies that all enemy aliens above the age of 14 years, not fully admitted to citizenship, must register. The registration is merely an act of good faith and violation of the law carries the penalty of internment for the duration of the war. Those who have taken out their first papers must register. Internment will be without trial and on the mere recommendation of the United States marshal."

Mrs. Roy Owens and daughter, Ruth, of Hiawatha, Kans., arrived in Maryville last night to visit with Mrs. Owens' mother, Mrs. C. A. Lawler.

TROOPS WERE COOL

U. S. SOLDIERS ON TUSCANIA ARE GIVEN HIGH PRAISE

RELATIONS ARE ANXIOUS

Seventy-two Hours After Transport Is Sunk Government Is Unable to Give a List of the Survivors

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Feb. 9.—The work of identifying the victims of the Tuscania is made most difficult, due to exposure and mutilation of the bodies. Major Wade in command of the American troops aboard gives high praise to the coolness of the American soldiers. A temporary military camp has been established in the north of Ireland for the American soldiers.

Washington, Feb. 9. — Seventy-two hours after the British liner, Tuscania, laden with American troops and traveling with a large convoy, was torpedoed and sunk off the Irish coast, the War Department tonight still was unable to relieve the anxiety of relatives and friends of those on board by announcing the list of survivors.

Even an official statement on the circumstances attending the sinking was lacking and official figures still failed to accord with press accounts of the number lost.

The War Department has had no official report on losses. British admiralty figures given to the Associated Press at London tonight show 166 missing, 147 of them American soldiers, four officers and 143 men. There were 117 American officers and 2,060 men on board the Tuscania and the admiralty reports among the survivors 113 officers and 1,917 men.

In spite of the realization that the loss was remarkably small considering the number involved, the revised admiralty report caused bitter disappointment. Press dispatches last night indicating that the dead might not exceed one hundred had led to the hope that not more than fifty of the soldiers had perished.

"Does it give milk?" "Yes." "How much?" "Er-ah-I-I-don't know." "Does it give a gallon —half gal—" "Well, I don't know, but I'll say this—she's a good natured cow, and whatever she's got, she'll give you."

ADS AID THE FARMER

ARE JUST AS PROFITABLE AS TO THE MERCHANT

LOCAL BUYERS PAY MORE

Time and Money Are Often Saved by Advertising, as Many Instances Have Shown

Few farmers have taken advantage of the opportunities afforded by advertising. From the very nature of their business advertising is probably not so important as it is to merchants or other business men. However, under certain circumstances advertising is just as profitable to farmers as to merchants. Of course, it would not be profitable to advertise corn, hay, wheat and various other products of that nature immediately after harvest or when other farmers have vast supplies on hand. But it would pay to advertise seed corn, seed wheat, pure-bred live stock, garden crops and various other farm products in which a farmer might care to specialize.

Conditions at present have made opportunity for advertising brood sows and gilts. In many cases, owing to the shortage of breeding animals, it would not be necessary to advertise. However, in cases where a local market could not be found for sows advertising in the local paper would probably bring a buyer who would pay more for the animals than the farmer could obtain for them at the stock yards.

An instance where advertising would have saved money was brought out during a farmers' meeting conducted by the University of Missouri College of Agriculture in Oregon county last spring. It was learned that one farmer had been hauling corn twenty miles to market and that another farmer two or three miles away had been buying corn at the same market and hauling it home. In this case an advertisement by either one of the farmers would have saved both of them the expense of a forty mile trip with each load of corn. In another instance a farmer who had calves to pasture spent four days in riding over his county hunting for pasture. At the end of his search he found pasture on the farm of one of his near neighbors. In this case advertising would have saved considerable time for him.

WORKMAN MADE PAUPER BY GERMAN PROPAGANDA

Escanaba, Mich, Feb. 9. — Charles Nelson worked hard after coming to America from Scandinavia and had $2,000 in a bank here. German sympathizers told him he would have to invest all his savings in the next Liberty Loan and that the bonds were certain to be worth little or nothing in a few years.

Nelson proceeded to withdraw all his life savings and spent it all in taxi rides and Escanaba saloons. Now he is broke.

Fred Lewis of Chillicothe and Miss Mary Lewis of Ravenwood are visiting over Sunday in Maryville with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lewis.

Warren Lewis of Salem, Ill., will arrive in Maryville tomorrow morning to visit a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lewis.

PARNELL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Wilson are the proud parents of another girl, the young lady arriving on groundhog day.

William Adams has sold his 80-acre farm near Parnell to Henry Frede at $95 per acre. Mr Adams and family will likely move to Parnell.

B. A. Jones left Friday for Hot Springs, Ark., where the racing season is now on.

James M. Wilson has moved into his new residence in the east part of town. Mr. Wilson has one of the finest residences in Parnell.

Coal is such a curiosity in these parts that many people are wearing small pieces for watch charms. Even the school building has been burning wood during the last week or more.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Hanes came in from Twin Falls, Idaho, the middle of last week on a visit with relatives and friends. He expects to be here about two weeks. Mr. Hanes says all the former Parnellites are getting along fine.

A. G. Huff and family moved yesterday to a farm near Grant City where they expect to reside in the future. Art says he expects to raise 40 or more bushels of wheat to the acre and not less than 80 bushels of corn and other cereals in proportion. He says this war must be won if he has to do most of it himself.

CLOTHES GOING UP

INCREASE OF THIRTY PER CENT IN MEN'S WEAR THIS SPRING

CONSERVE MATERIALS

Manufacturers Have Been Asked to Limit Their Outputs Largely to Standard Patterns

From $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 worth of business will be taken out of the hands of men's clothing dealers in the United States every year the war lasts, according to several local dealers. If 2,000,000 soldiers spend $100 each for clothing a year, which is said to be the approximate allowance, it will maen that $200,000,000 heretofore spent for civilian clothing with stores throughout the country will be expended for military garments purchased through government agencies.

It is estimated that these 2,000,000 soldiers in civil life would use 4,000,000 suits, worth an average of $20 each, for a total of $80,000,000. This figure is exclusive of hats, shoes, underclothing and general haberdashery.

Dealers generally conceded that men's suits will be thirty per cent higher this spring than last spring, and fifty per cent higher the coming fall than the fall of 1917. They said that this unprecedented advance in prices will be caused by great increases in the price of cotton and wool, and higher labor wages, as well as advances in fuel and practically all other commodities. At the request of the government less wool and more cotton will be used in suits and it will be almost impossible to purchase an all-wool worsted suit.

Manufacturers have been asked and have acceded to the request to limit their outputs largely to standard patterns and to eliminate models which call for the use of needless materials, such as cloth belts on coats and adornments on coat sleeves. It is said that a multiplicity of style wastes labor and materials and renders more difficult the merchandising of the goods.

A Serious Wool Shortage.

Clothing merchants said there is a serious shortgae of wool in this country and that as the goverment is equipping its fighting forces with garments containing substantial quantities of wool substitutes, the civilian population will certainly not demand or accept clothing made entirely from new wool.

The commercial economy board of the council of national defense, which has been assured of the hearty cooperation of the leading clothing organizations of the nation, has issued an appeal for the assistance of the retail clothiers in making effective various proposed measures for the relief of the clothing situation caused primarily by the war. It states that clothing manufacturers have already assured the board of their cooperation and asks the retailers, as a war measure, to purchase for the 1918 spring season only such styles as are consistent with recommendations of the board, which provide for the conservation of wool and piece goods.

Local merchants said that the big advance in the cost of suits approximately will counterbalance the loss of business on account of the war. It is their opinion that civilians will not buy cheap clothing, because that would not be economical in the long run.

A clothing trade paper states that a survey of the business shows that buyers and retailers generally have adopted the policy of conservative buying, a policy which is being so strictly adhered to that manufacturers declare business is only "fair" or "poor." This is said to be due to the wave of wartime economy which is sweeping the country and to unsettled conditions in the clothing business.

CONCEIVES STAMP PLAN

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 9.—If it had not been for the fertile mind of John T. Todd of Springfield the thrift stamp plan in effect throughout the country today might never have been started. He has admitted suggesting the "big idea" to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo while the latter was visiting in Chicago. Mr. Todd is a former railroad man here and is at present engaged in Washington, assisting Frank Vanderlip, chairman of the national thrift stamp drive committee.

Doris Tracy of Bedford is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tracy. Mr. and Mrs. John O. Tracy, who are spending the day in St. Joseph, will visit over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tracy.

THIS FEBRUARY IS PECULIAR

Counting Sundays, Holidays and Garfield Mondays, There Are Ten Idle Days In It

Even if only for the sake of recording a caldenric and economic curiosity, it is interesting to consider the prospects for the month of February of a per diem employee.

The man who works by the day will pay a full month's rent. He will need to buy groceries, gas, clothing and all the other worldly necessities for twenty-eight days.

Let us say that his daily wage is $4.00. The year round his monthly revenue, allowing for neither illness nor vacations, is twenty-six times $4.00, or $104. February has always been a bad month for him. Normally it has four Sundays and two holidays, leaving only twenty-two working days and reducing his month's income by $16.00.

This month he is to be idle four Sundays, two holidays—the 12th and 22nd—and four Garfield Mondays, a total of ten idle days. His prospective earnings, therefore, are eighteen times $4.00, or $72.00. This is $32.00 less than his normal monthly earnings.

It is worth recording, as another curiosity, that Washington apparently intends to offer the third Liberty Loan in the month from which Dr. Garfield will amputate four of the twenty-two working days that remain after religion and reverence have taken out their customary share.

GOOD OF COMPANY MANNERS

Obviates Arguments, Harsh Language, Criticisms and Other Features in Ordinary Home Life.

There isn't any trouble in the home when there is company in the house. Everything runs smoothly, as a rule, avers the Columbus Dispatch. The children are better behaved, regardless of what mother says about it; father is more patient. There is no quarreling among the children—when there is company. Everything is cleaner, and more orderly, and voices are lowered, and correct language is used.

Which is to say, wouldn't it be a blessed good thing to have "company manners" in the home all the time? To have the breakfast pass off as quietly; to have as little harsh language; to do away with the usual family criticisms—wouldn't it be glorious if we used "company manners" whether there is company present or not?

It would be an awful strain for a while, to be sure. The whole family is under a strain when there's company in the house. But the general effect would justify the strain. There would come a time when it wouldn't be any strain at all; it would become a habit. Table manners would be improved, conversation would be more rational, criticism would be less bitter, dispositions would mature with the sweetness of ripened fruit that has grown in the sunlight.

Banish Idleness.

Idleness, rather than the love of money, is the root of all evil, and uncheerfulness is one of the shoots from the root, asserts the Los Angeles Times. There is no such thing as idleness in nature. The worlds that glitter in the arch of the heavens are ever moving. The moon never stays in one place. The restless sea moans in and out over the harbor bar. The rivers gurgle and plash as they journey to the sea. The trees change their costume twice a year and grow a little every hour of every day in the year. The birds never roost at noonday, and man is the only animal who oversleeps himself. "A contented mind is a continual feast," and the worker, whether he labors with brain or brawn, who finds delight in his work, who sings as he cheerfully lifts the hammer or laughs as he pens the thought that comes to him, is happy and content.

Early California History.

The first white men to visit San Francisco bay were of the expedition of Portola, a Spanish adventurer who became the first governor of California. Portola himself was not a member of the party which, 148 years ago, gazed upon the site of San Francisco and Oakland. The honor of discovery belongs to Father Juan Crespi and Sergeant Ortega. Gasper de Portola, "captain of dragoons and governor of the Californias," probably never saw the bay, but his name is perpetuated as the discoverer by the annual Portola festivals in San Francisco. Sir Francis Drake came near discovering the bay in 1578, when he landed at a point 30 miles to the northwest.

Rainbow Never Shows Complete Circle

A rainbow never shows a complete circle, but at the most only a semicircle, unless the observer happens to be at a great elevation, as in a balloon, when more than half a circle can be seen, but never an entire one. Halos and rainbows also differ in the size of the circles or semicircles that they exhibit. The radius of a halo is about 22 degrees and that of a rainbow about 42 degrees. Other arches and circles are sometimes seen outside of both the rainbow and the halo, but the radii given are for the principal, or primary, phenomenon.

When Unpatriotic Youth Develops 'Horse Asthma' the Muses Cut Loose

(By W. R. Harris)

Washington, Feb. 9. — Remarkable ingenuity in framing up appeals for exemption from military service under the selective service law has been displayed by registrants in various sections of the country.

The latest one sprung on the officials of Provost Marshal General Crowder's office surpasses all previous slackeristic efforts. The medical division is baffled. A new disease has come with the war.

"Horse asthma" is the malady from which a promising young barrister of a southern capital is suffering. The fact that rigid examinations by the local physicians failed to disclose the presence of the startling ailment merely served to show up the incompetence of the home doctors. A Baltimore specialist required but a few moments to locate the desired grounds for an exemption claim.

A devotee of the Walt Mason style of expression has put the case up to the provost marshal general's office in the following language:

"Long have I practiced at the bar, my voice has rung and carried far; men have filled court houses full to hear me shoot the classic bull. I've spoken often from the stump; I've made the politicians hump; I've made the rural welkin ring, and even tried, at times, to sing. These all I have foresworn, I vow—I'm living in a stable now. I used to drive my super-six and make it do ten thousand tricks; and in my little motor boat I used to ride and dive and float, though storm waves broke over the stern and bow—I'm living in a stable now! For war broke out, they drafted me to send me far across the sea, where they will shoot me full of holes and feed my carcass to the moles. I do not love the cannon's roar, the thought of grenades makes me sore, the thought of trenches makes me sick; I can't abide shovel or pick, and blood — I shudder at the sight! In fact, I do not want to fight! I hired me eleven docs and paid them quite a pile of rocks to plumb my whole anatomy and locate something wrong with me. They punched me here and poked me there, they ran sandpaper through my hair; they X-rayed me, they spun me round, and then—all told me I was sound! I paid them all, and paid them well, and tol dthem all to go to ———; to each a last goodbye I kissed and hied me to a specialist. I said, naming a fancy fee, 'You must find something wrong with me!' He stuck ammonia 'neath my nose, my throat closed up, my gizzard froze; I coughed and choked and gasped for breath—I thought I'd surely met my death. Then, with a knowing wink, he said: 'You've horse asthma in the head! If you will round a stable stay and kiss a horse three times a day and keep ammonia in your kick, you'll always look like you are sick.' I paid his fee and quickly ran unto a friendly stable man, upon whose neck I straight did fail and hired me an empty stall. Men may come and men may go, the breezes sigh, the storm winds blow; but I'll not go to France, I vow—I'm living in a stable now!"

"General Pershing has ample stable space, 'tis said, where this young chap may make his bed. His name now adorns Class I, the unpatriotic sun-of-a-gun!" the draft board decreed.

DENVER WOMAN TAUGHT "BLACK JACK" HIS PRAYERS

Denver, Feb. 9.—Mrs. J. H. Manning of this city is cherishing the contents of an official looking envelope with a war department stamp on it, received recently from General John J. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary forces.

Mrs. Manning taught General Pershing his prayers when "Black Jack" was one of her Sunday school pupils in Laclede, Mo., the birthplace of the commander, and this is the first communication the aged lady has had from him in many years.

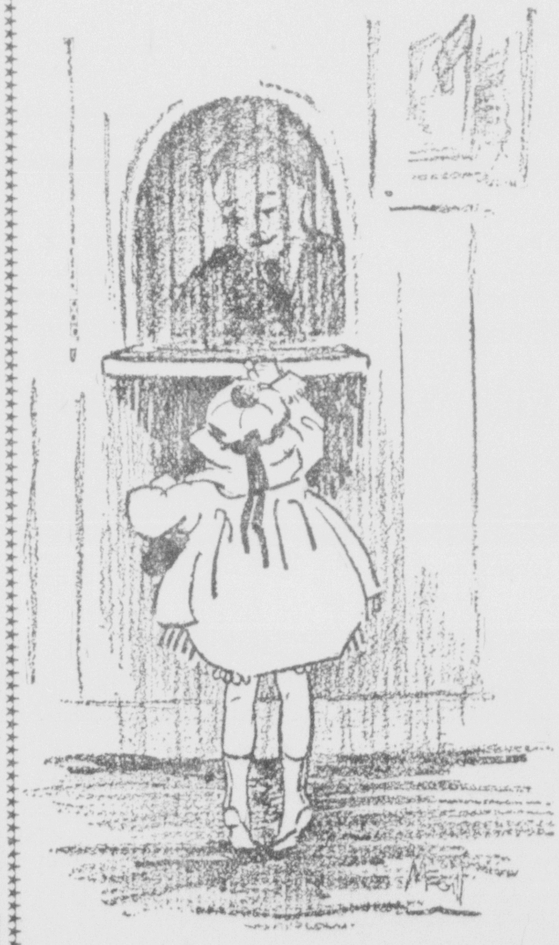
A Child's Savings May Shorten The War



The war is costing the combined allies more than $30,000,000 an hour. The daily fate of this huge sum is simple waste. A shortening of the war by days or even hours would mean the redemption of colossal waste.
We must bend every financial effort towards shortening the war. Every small amount invested by a child in Thrift Stamps tends towards this end. The influence of every Thrift Stamp purchased is a little momentum toward earlier victory.
Thus a child's savings may be instrumental in definitely shortening this war and in saving many times its own value in money, to say nothing of conserving human life.
Encourage your child to invest in 4% interest-bearing Thrift Stamps instead of merely hoarding his pennies in a tin bank.
Thrift Stamps cost 25 cents each and may be bought at the postoffice, from your mail carrier and at most stores.

SOME NEW RULES FOR LENT

The Lenten Season Begins Next Week, February 13, With Ash Wednesday —Easter Sunday March 31

On Wednesday of next week Ash Wednesday will be the beginning of the Lenten season in the Catholic church, and from then on until Easter Sunday prayer and fasting by members of the church will be more particularly observed by Catholics than during any other time of the year. The Lenten season is one of importance in the Catholic church.

The pope's announcement that Catholics may eat fish and meat at the same meal in Lent sets aside a rule which was established by Benedict XIX in 1745. This prohibition applied to Sundays as well as week days, and no relaxation of it was permitted, even in the United States. The important change may be caused by the realization that now, when meat is scarce and dear, a meal may be eked out with a fish course.

The substitution of Saturday for Wednesday as a day of abstinence will bring together the church's two meatless days. To the abstinence of Fridays there are no exceptions, unless in the case of a person seriously ill, but in the United States workingmen and their families have been permitted since 1895 or before to eat meat once a day on all abstinence days except Fridays, Ash Wednesday, Holy Saturday and Christmas Eve. This rule is now slightly modified to the extent that the fast of Holy Saturday will end at noon.

American Catholics will also observe the nation's meatless day, but that does not exclude fowl. The Catholic workingman, who is permitted by the church to eat meat o nSaturday, is asked by the president to make that a porkless day.

The permission granted to soldiers and sailors to eat meat on all days of the year except Ash Wednesday, the last two days of Lent and Christmas Eve, was to be expected, for this exemption has been applied for many years to the army in peace tiems, and not only to the navy but to sailors in the merchant marine.
